Thank you for purchasing the Virtual Reality Development Lab Kit. In an effort to go more green, we are no longer printing, and including the manuals & software in the kit, but can be downloaded off our site. This also allows you to have the latest version of both our software and manuals.

1) Simply go to www.DigitalTechFrontier.com and click on the "Download" button.

2) Then, download both the software and hardware manuals. Then click on "VRDL Software Manual 2009" and "VRDL Hardware Manual 2009". This will start the PDF downloads. (*Make sure you have Adobe Acrobat Reader)

Imagine everyone in the classroom having access to the above Virtual Reality software online and able to use it from home or in school. No need to install any desktop programs and all your information is also stored online. We are offering a site license to the software for only $950 a year with 500mb of space. This is a savings of over $20,000 in software cost for getting the entire classroom involved, engaged and using the latest tools for Environmental and Spatial Technologies. Thank you and we hope to see you @ uperade to a oneshot lens!!

Forget about complicated stitching process and get your panoramas done with just one photo. It's a space, time, and money saver for your business, school, or personal use.

The single-shot panorama lens is a convex mirror optic for taking panoramic images with only one single photo. There is no need of stitch several images, which avoids the problems due to different exposures and light among pictures, saving time and effort.

- Ships with bubble level to align the optic horizontally.
- Vertical Field-of-View: up to 115°
- Weight: only 0,15 kg
- Diameter: 115mm x 106mm

This is the easiest and fastest way of taking panoramas.

To attach the Single-Shot optic to your camera you need an adapter for a 52 MM Ring
